WEST HARTFORD, CONN. – The International Exhibition & Conference on Higher Education (IECHE), which was held recently in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, welcomed educators from around the world including University of Saint Joseph President Pamela Trotman Reid, Ph.D. (pictured here, third from the left). Reid spoke with Saudi students and administrators regarding the key benefits of USJ's undergraduate and graduate academic programs. The Saudi Arabian Ministry of Higher Education is currently building solid partnerships with some of the world's top higher education institutions. The IECHE plays an integral role in bringing together educators, students, speakers, and leading universities from around the globe to collaborate towards the common goal of advancing a knowledge-based economy in Saudi Arabia.

###

The University of Saint Joseph (USJ) offers a wide range of graduate, undergraduate, and certificate programs that combine a professional and liberal arts education with a focus on service. Coeducational graduate master's and doctoral degree programs are taught on the University's two campuses in West Hartford and Hartford, Connecticut; at off-campus locations throughout the state; and online. Undergraduate programs for women and for coeducational adult students take place on our beautiful suburban campus and include more than 22 majors and six pre-professional programs, each of which provides personal attention in a caring environment. Founded in 1932 by the Sisters of Mercy, the University of Saint Joseph welcomes students from diverse backgrounds and religious traditions. To learn more, view our website at www.usj.edu.
