University of Saint Joseph Elects Eight New Trustees; Leaders in Several Industries

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. -- The University of Saint Joseph (USJ) announced today the election of eight new members to its Board of Trustees. Their terms begin July 1, and they bring the total number of USJ Trustees to 28.

“The entire University of Saint Joseph community is honored to welcome these successful, visionary, and dedicated business and community leaders to our Board of Trustees,” said Pamela Trotman Reid, Ph.D., president of the University of Saint Joseph. “They are leaders in a variety of industries and, with our current Board members, will help strengthen the strategic vision of our institution to benefit our students, faculty, administration, alumni and community for years to come.”

The new members of the University of Saint Joseph Board of Trustees are:

Elizabeth C. Barton, a partner with Day Pitney LLP, who has 20+ years of experience in environmental and land use consultation, permitting, and litigation.

Gregory A. Boyko, the retired chairman and CEO of Hartford Life Insurance International Ltd., and honorary consul general of Japan.

Suzanne Deliee, RSM, a community health nurse at the Little Sisters of the Assumption Family Health Service in East Harlem, N.Y.

Martha S. Gervasi, executive vice president of human resources at The Hartford.

Rob King, senior vice president of editorial, print, and digital media at ESPN, where he oversees the editorial direction of ESPN's digital and print properties.

Jenny Niemann, chief executive officer (CEO) of Red Thread, a Steelcase regional dealership that strives to deliver innovative workplace environments.

Elizabeth "Beth" Rubino, president of Ultimate Nutrition Inc., a nutrition supplement company founded in 1979.

Joseph J. Spalluto, retired Group Head, Fixed Income for Keefe, Bruyette & Woods, a preeminent investment bank specializing in the financial services sector.
